WOMAN'S CHIEF WORK.

To Be That of Home-Maker, Declares
Dr. William W. Guth.

Baltimore, Feb. 10.—In his inaugural address yesterday Dr. William Westley Guth, the new president of Goucher college, declared that woman's chief work is to be that of home-maker and that in all the training for women which the schools can give the duty of motherhood must be carried out. He said in part: "While our higher institutions of learning should grant to women the privilege of graduate and technical courses, with the view to business or professional life on the ground that all women cannot or will not marry, it would be a mistake of the real purpose of her higher education if she should be trained away from rather than toward the expectancy of marriage and motherhood. "I would have no word to say concerning woman's rights, if her rights involve nothing more than the ballot. Personally, I have never found any reason why woman should not vote. "There is no reason why women who know something about business and public affairs and is interested in social betterment should not be lovable, and gracious, and sweet, or above all, a good mother."

The victory of the government was greeted with both cheers and jeers.

KING GEORGE
COUNSELS CARE

In Considering Question of Home Rule
for Ireland—He Opened Parliament
Session With Much Pomp.

London, Feb. 10.—King George to-day opened the fourth session of the present British Parliament, a session that promises to be history-making owing to the import of constitutional questions to be decided, including home rule of Ireland. He was accompanied by Queen Mary, who, like the king, wore a crown and brilliant royal robes.

His Majesty drove in the state coach of gold, which was drawn by eight Hanoverian cream-colored horses through the city to the king's entrance of the House of Lords. The trip was made through great crowds.

Seated on the throne King George read a speech outlining the government's program for the session. Regarding home rule he said he regretted that the effort made to arrive at a solution by agreement of the problems connected with the government of Ireland so far had been unsuccessful. "In a matter in which the hopes and fears of so many of my subjects are concerned, and which, unless handled with foresight and judgment and a spirit of mutual concession, threatens grave future difficulties, it is my earnest wish that the good will and co-operation of all parties and creeds may heal the dissension and lay a foundation of lasting settlement."

ACCEPT INVITATION TO MEET IN BARRE

New England Association of Cemetery
Superintendents Voted at Boston
Last Night to Hold Summer
Gathering in Granite City.

Barre is to entertain the New England Association of Cemetery Superintendents on the occasion of its annual outing the coming summer. Information to the effect was received here by wire forenoon from Superintendent Hanton of Hanton of the local cemetery commission, who has been representing the Quarrymen's association, the Board of Trade and the Granite Manufacturers' association, at the annual business meeting of the New England organization.

Plans for the outing will have their inception at once. Yearly the New England association assemble at some point for an outing and through the efforts of Superintendent Hanton, the outing will be held in Barre some time in June. The vote to come to Vermont at the invitation of the allied associations of this city was carried at the closing session of the New England association in Boston last night. Cemetery superintendents from every large center in New England were present and the vote to go to Barre for the summer outing is said to have been received with enthusiasm.

The decision of the superintendents to honor Barre with their summer meeting is the outcome of a campaign which the Quarrymen, the Manufacturers and the Board of Trade have been conducting, with the assistance of Superintendent Hanton, himself a member of the association, for several weeks. Arrangements will be made immediately for carrying out the earlier details of the occasion and committees from the organizations will be formed at once. Tentative plans suggest that the outing is to be conducted along the lines of "Barre day," Aug. 22 last. It is proposed to provide the same measure of entertainment for the superintendents as that enjoyed by the retailers last year. Probably the outing will embrace an automobile trip around the city, inspection tours through the cutting plants, perhaps a train ride through the quarry districts, a buffet luncheon out of doors or a barbecue, and an automobile drive through some of the finest scenery that Vermont has to offer.

It is thought that at least 100 superintendents will make up the party and there are prospects that more will come by reason of the unique manner of entertainment which is sure to be provided. Hitherto, the summer outings of the association have been held at the beach, or at amusement parks. This year's gathering will be an unusual departure from this rule, inasmuch as the Barre organization will see to it that the outing has its instructive as well as its entertaining side.

Following investigation into Complaint of Resorts in Barre.

An investigation into the charge that gambling resorts are flourishing in Barre culminated yesterday afternoon in the third arrest of the day. Robert E. Murphy was taken into custody by Chief Sinclair and arraigned before Judge H. W. Scott on a charge of keeping a gaming resort. The respondent entered a plea of not guilty through his attorney, William Wishart, but the court adjudged him guilty and imposed a $25 fine and costs of $5.14, which were paid. The respondent, so the police claim, conducted a resort in the Bolster block. Howard J. Ennis, who was one of two barbers to plead to similar charges in the forenoon, paid a fine of $25 and costs in the afternoon.

Cabot Men in Court.

On the highest plot of cultivated ground in Vermont yesterday, Deputy Sheriff A. M. Morrison arrested Jack Foster, Dan McLean and Harry Stevens in Cabot yesterday. The deputy's brush with the trio was staged on a picturesque plateau overlooking the shimmering surface of Lake St. Joe, which, however, did not shimmer yesterday. Foster, McLean and Stevens were wanted on intoxication charges, the state claiming that a number of unpleasant parties which marred the harvest home festival and promenade at Cabot on the night of Jan. 30 were due in part to their antics. The men accompanied the officer after a little parleying. All four suffered greatly from exposure, and according to the testimony of one, the wind blew such a gale that the very crust was ripped from snow and flung into their faces. They arrived in Barre at 6 o'clock.

Foster, McLean and Stevens pleaded not guilty to the charges. By the court, they were adjudged guilty and sentenced to pay fines of $5 with costs amounting to $13.50, or thereabouts, in each case. Through their counsel, H. A. Ennis, they appealed the decision to county court. Bail of $50 was stacked in the courtroom for their appearance.

Lucio Higuera, who was arrested Sunday by local officers, came before the magistrate yesterday afternoon and changed his original plea to guilty. A fine of $5 and costs of $7.26 were paid.

John Bennett, who was arrested Saturday night by Officer Ed L. McLeod, was brought into court again this forenoon for a hearing. The respondent asked for a jury trial and Constable George L. Morris was instructed to empanel a jury. The case was started this afternoon.
